

8th International Creative Papers Conference 2026

2025.10

I Academic Outline

1. Objective

The International Creative Papers Conference (ICPC) is a global academic event that brings together researchers, students, and professionals to present innovative and creative papers. It serves as an international platform for sharing outstanding research in science, technology, and the knowledge economy.

ICPC 2026 emphasizes the convergence of science, technology, and economic activities with ESG principles, encouraging independent, forward-thinking, and ESG-oriented research from participants worldwide. With representatives from more than 20 countries, the conference is co-hosted by WIIPA (World Invention Intellectual Property Associations), CU Media Group, the Korea University Invention Association, and academic partners both in Korea and abroad.

All accepted papers will be published in an ISSN-registered journal, providing official academic recognition and enhancing the scholarly achievements of participants.
